12:00 PM - Call meeting to order

12:05 - Talked with Peace and Justice Center about future trainings. We decided on Their workshop called Seeing and Disrupting Racism. They said they can work with a group of 40 people normally but can bring in more personal for larger groups. They usually break up into smaller groups during the workshop. We decided to plan on 40 or less people.

We decided on either May 24th or 25th - depending on what works best for their people. The event will start at 5:30 with the committee providing food. The training will start at 6 and go until about 8.

Ceilidh brought up a possible follow up meeting with the Select Board. They said they would be happy to do that.

The Peace & Justice Center will get back to us with a quote for the workshop and which date works best. They will also include information about a possible follow up meeting.
