The Northeast Kingdom Council on Aging Tech for Today along with the Northeast Kingdom Community Action will be hosting a session at the Hardwick Senior Center.

Free Tech Support Services for Seniors

Learn how the NEK Council on Aging's Tech for Today program helps our elder community members clear technology hurdles using computers, tablets, cell phones, and the Internet. The goal is to allow them to be more independent, reduce isolation, and connect with resources. At this event, seniors will be able to sign up for individual help sessions at their homes or our office.

Lowering Your Internet Bill with the ACP

We will also present information on the federal government's Affordable Connectivity Program. The ACP provides a credit of $30 per month on home or mobile Internet service to those who meet financial qualifications. We will help participants determine if they are eligible and provide help signing up for the program during this event.

Staff will be available to help apply for the ACP on site or schedule technology support in your home.
